Quick Facts about Young Voters in Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater, FL¹: The Midterm Election Year 2006

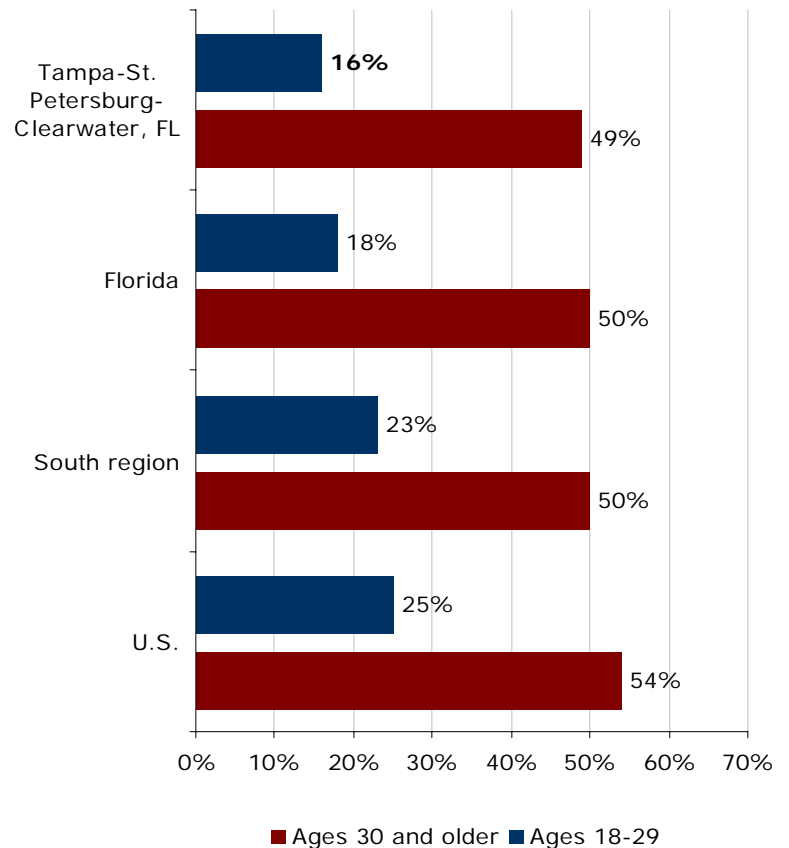

By Karlo Barrios Marcelo, Research Associate²
July 2007

The 2006 midterm election was the second major election in a row that saw an increase in the electoral participation of young people ages 18-29. Between 2002 and 2006, the percentage of eligible young people who voted increased by 3 percentage points to 25 percent, the single largest increase among all age groups nationally.³

In Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater, FL, the voter turnout rate among young people was 16 percent, two percentage points below Florida's state average and nine percentage points below the national average.

There was a 29 percentage point gap between young people and adults in the U.S., but this gap was bigger (33 percentage points) at the more local level of Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater, FL.
